

Transport Safety Seminars June 2016

A photograph of a man with short brown hair, wearing a grey polo shirt, smiling broadly while driving a truck. He is looking out the window to his right. The interior of the truck is visible, including the steering wheel and dashboard. The background outside the window shows a blurred industrial or warehouse setting.

Learn how to protect your employees and others from vehicle related harm

The Health and Safety Authority are running a series of regional morning seminars in June, to highlight the importance of managing vehicle related risks in the workplace.

Why Attend?

Every year, people are killed by accidents involving vehicles in the workplace and on the road. On average this represents 41% of all work related deaths reported to the HSA each year. Learn the key steps to keeping people safe around vehicles.

The seminars will be of interest to all employers that operate vehicles in the workplace and on the road. They will be of particular benefit to:
