

10 Top Tips for SIEF Participants

1. If you are a pre-registrant, then you must participate in a SIEF unless you do not intend to register
2. You are not obliged to exchange money to become a member of a SIEF
3. Get involved, communicate within your SIEF, especially if you intend to register in 2010
4. Ensure that a Lead Registrant (LR) is selected and agreed upon within your SIEF, for the purposes of Joint Submission
5. Contact your LR to inform him that you are an active SIEF member
6. Keep up to date with all communications and react to any requests from your LR within the set timelines. Your silence may lead to a misinterpretation that you do not wish to be an active participant and you may miss the joint submission
7. Remember, you are obliged to share data for the purposes of Registration
8. You must be part of the Joint Registration Submission unless you have valid reasons to 'opt out'
9. Note that ECHA will not participate in discussions between potential registrants and will not confirm or disallow the creation of a particular SIEF
10. Also, note that Consortia Members within a SIEF cannot proceed with a Joint Submission without the agreement of other SIEF participants
