

BUILDING A RESILIENT SAFETY CULTURE: DOING SAFETY DIFFERENTLY

Date: Wed, 4th March, 2026

Time: 11:00-12:00

REGISTER HERE

The Occupational Health Division of the Health and Safety Authority, in collaboration with industry, invite you to this free webinar designed to help organisations get insight into their own safety culture and to progress toward a more open, resilient and proactive safety culture.

HSA Human Factors Specialist, Dr Colleen Butler, shares knowledge and insights from research and practice on safety culture maturity and doing 'safety differently'. Guest Speaker Marion Kiely, EHS Culture Lead, shares Pepsico's Courage to Care Programme and how they drove culture change by focusing on psychological safety and empowering its operators and frontline teams to 'voice opinions fearlessly'.

Why attend?

Get insight and understanding about:

- Safety culture maturity and your organisation's current safety culture
- What excellence looks like in safety culture
- Practical ways to drive culture change from a case study
- Methods for evaluating safety culture and driving positive improvement

Who should attend?

- Employers and duty-holders
- HR and people managers
- Operations managers
- Production managers
- Safety representatives
- OSH researchers and consultants

