Why attend?

Identifying and managing psychosocial risks in the workplace will improve mental wellbeing at work and contribute to a positive work environment where everyone can perform to the best of their abilities.

This conference will provide practical guidance on:

- understanding psychosocial hazards and the HSA's role in supporting organisations with assessment and management of these hazards in the workplace,
- using the HSA's Work Positive tool (psychosocial risk management process), and
- implementing practical steps to manage psychosocial hazards in the workplace.

Who should attend?

The conference will be of benefit to employers, managers and duty holders from any size organisation in any industry sector, as well as HR Managers, People Managers and Safety Professionals.
